WORLD ELDER ABUSE AWARENESS DAY

Building Strong Support for Elders

Want to help spread the word about World Elder Abuse Awareness Day (WEAAD)? Using social media is an excellent way to engage our community around this important and timely subject. Below are some ways to use social media to promote WEAAD.

Ways to use social media to promote WEAAD:

- Share and/or create posts on sites like Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram that help promote WEAAD. These posts could be about a WEAAD event you are hosting, other WEAAD events you are interested in, elder abuse prevention in general, or any other content related to WEAAD.
- Use the hashtag #WEAAD in your posts. The more people sharing this hashtag, the more powerful our movement can be!
- Make a Facebook ad promoting WEAAD
- Follow @NCEAatUSC on Twitter and “like” the NCEA’s Facebook page at www.facebook.com/NationalCenteronElderAbuse to stay updated on WEAAD activities

Tips for composing effective posts on social media:

- Have a clear and concise message.
- The best posts are a call to action. Turn your followers into effective advocates by giving them a clear action to take.
- When retweeting or reposting, add value to the post by adding your own commentary, or add a link to additional media on the subject.
- Use popular hashtags, but use them in moderation. Using more than two hashtags can muddle your message and is not recommended.
- Add something visual to your post to increase interest. A photo, link with a thumbnail, or video can generate significantly more attention. Check out the logos and images from our tools & tips section: <http://eldermistreatment.usc.edu/weaad-home/tools-and-tips>

- Older people are mistreated more often than we think due to the lack of supports for older people in our communities. It doesn't have to be this way. Get involved in creating a stronger society that safeguards our communities and prevents abuse. <http://eldermistreatment.usc.edu/weaad-home> #WEAAD
- It is up to all of us to work together to create a sturdy structure of support and prevent, notice and report abuse. Learn how: <http://eldermistreatment.usc.edu/weaad-home> #WEAAD
- Elder abuse is an injustice with many consequences for our society, affecting everything from our communities' public health to our economic resources. Working together, we can build the social supports that can prevent elder abuse. <http://eldermistreatment.usc.edu/weaad-home> #WEAAD
- We are all born with the same human rights that should be enjoyed at every stage of our lives. When ageism, negative stereotypes based on prejudices about age, is directed at older people, it drives discrimination and the denial of our human rights as we age. Let's end ageism and make our society more just. <http://eldermistreatment.usc.edu/weaad-home> #WEAAD
- Our society is like a building. Buildings need beams of support to keep sturdy and keep the people inside safe. In order to keep older people in our society safe, we must build systems of support in our community to prevent and address elder abuse. For example, we can construct community supports and human services for caregivers and older adults to alleviate risk factors tied to elder abuse, or we can support efforts to train practitioners in aging-related care.
